HME DISQUALIFYING CRIMES/FELONIES

The list of disqualifying crimes was specifically designed to identify those most likely to endanger the nation's transportation network and is comparable to background reviews applied to millions of airport and airline employees.

These crimes are only disqualifying if they are considered felonies in the appropriate jurisdiction, civilian or military. A driver will be disqualified from holding a hazmat endorsement if he or she was convicted* or found not guilty by reason of insanity within the last seven years, was released from prison within the last five years, or is wanted or under indictment for any of the following crimes:

- Smuggling
- Immigration Violations
- RICO (Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act) Violations
- Distribution of, intent to distribute, possession, or importation of a controlled substance (State laws on the quantity of marijuana required for the offense to be considered a felony, vary. Typically, however, to be convicted of felony marijuana possession a person must possess a quantity of marijuana greater than an amount considered for "personal use".)
- Dishonesty, fraud, or misrepresentation, including identity fraud (e.g., felony-level: embezzlement, tax evasion, perjury, and false statements to the Federal government)
- Unlawful possession, use, sale, distribution, or manufacture of an explosive device, firearm, or other weapon
- Conspiracy or attempt to commit any of these crimes

- A crime involving a severe transportation security incident (i.e., security incident involving a significant loss of life, environmental damage, transportation system disruption, or economic disruption in a particular area)
- Improper transportation of a hazardous material (Minor infractions involving transportation of hazardous materials will not disqualify a driver. For instance, no driver will be disqualified for minor roadside infractions or placarding violations.)
- Conspiracy or attempt to commit any of these crimes

A copy of your criminal history record will be provided to you by the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) if you make a written request for the information to:
